

PROPERTY PLUS

CENTRAL

Complimentary to the readers of Times of India From Ghatkopar to Badlapur and Chembur to Parvel

WHETHER it is a back office in the already highlighted IT segment in India or a corporate office reflecting the richness of business acumen, the present day needs for both these boil down to the most important aspect, namely the optimum utilisation of prime space available to them.

It is here that the creative challenges are thrown open to the architects and they are supposed to prove their mettle in providing options that are not only viable but also within the framework of the financial constraints.

This calls for experience in the field all over the country and originality of thought. Aum Architects, are one of a kind team of dedicated professionals engaged in consultancy services. With rich project and development experience and knowledge in the field of architecture, civil, project management and interior designing, Aum Architects can convert your ideas and spaces in to most active platforms buzzing with innovation. Aum

Architects cover a wide spectrum of civil construction such as residential, commercial and industrial projects. The segment of large residential projects forms their core competency.

Aum Architects is managed by highly qualified architects and project managers with a vast and vivid experience in the field of consultancy and the in-house facilities available with them, further increase their expertise due to the coherent structure. With a back-up of architects, engineers, interior architects and draftsmen, along with dedicated and qualified supporting staff, it should not be a surprise to find well-known corporate bigwigs from dot coms to shipping already making a beeline to Aum Architects.

While optimum utilisation of space is one of the prime criteria, the functionality of the structures finally provides them with practical validity. Value added services in this area from Aum Architects are possible due to amalgamation of software and hardware components of latest digital technologies to meet the challenges and demands of the construction industry in the current environment.

Although on principle, the budget for a creative project needs to have flexibility, with creative aesthetics and working within given financial limitations being a second nature at Aum, you can be sure of translation of your dreams in to reality.

Contact: Manish Dikshit - 9819192888 / 65531715. Website: www.aumarch.com

Worthy Interiors Redefined...

In order to be worthy of all the earthy pleasures, the interiors have to be original, effective and created to be functionally on top for the period designated.

The designs should fit in lavishly with the ideologies of the Company and at the same time should be amply able to reflect the positive attitudes. Once these are in place, optimized utilization of spaces comes naturally.

Taking up the creative challenges has been part of the mission for the team of dedicated professionals at AUM Architects. They have earned their rightful respect in consultancy services with originality and rich experience all over the country.

With project and development experience and Architectural, Civil, Project Management and Interior Design as their forte, Aum Architects can efficiently convert your ideas and spaces in to most active platforms buzzing with innovation.

Aum Architects cover a wide spectrum of civil construction such as residential, commercial and industrial projects. The segment of large residential projects forms their core competency.

With highly acclaimed Architects and Project Managers with vast and vivid experience in the field at the helm of affairs at Aum Architects and the in-house facilities available, the name shines with a coherent structure. Amalgamation of software and hardware components of latest digital technologies to meet the challenges and demands of the construction industry in the current environment further adds to the sheen.

With a back up of Architects, Engineers, Interior Architects and Draftsmen, along with dedicated and qualified supporting staff, it should not be a surprise to find well-known corporate bigwigs from dot coms to shipping already making a beeline to Aum Architects.

With lavishness becoming the keyword of even the most functional interiors, Aum strategies can only mean sure translation of your dreams in to reality...

Contact: Aum Architect, Manish Dikshit - 9819192888 / 65531715
Website: www.aumarch.com